I live on the darkside
I stand among strangers now
I walk in the twilight
But I'm gonna make it through somehow It's hard to keep fighting - when you're running against the tide
It cuts you inside
But what of tomorrow
What will the new day bring
A chance to start over and live it the way I want to live
It's hard to keep fighting - when you're running against
the tide
Don't push me too hard
I'm not an Angel
I'm running as fast as I am able

The truth's hard to master
In the lines of a single song
But what should I answer
When the question they ask is always wrong
It's hard to keep fighting - when you're running against
the tide

Don't push me too hard
I'm not an Angel
I'm running as fast as I am able
