A little sun, a little rain
A little pleasure, a little pain
A little give, a little take
A little bend and a little break
Life is more than this if you ever want to try it
Don't let anyone deny it

A little love, a little hate
A little rush, a little wait
A little listen, a little tell
A little heaven and a little hell
Life is more than this if you ever want to try it
Don't let anyone deny it
Let's go

A little laugh, a little tear
A little walk, a little fear
A little sure, a little guess
A little no and a little yes
Life is more than this if you ever want to try it
Don't let anyone deny it

Why don't you find out for yourself
