Wake up, wake up! Something here is wrong
The wood, the bolts, the ropes are all replaced with fog We're under attack! Throw the ropes across, they fall to the sea
I wouldn't wake those who are asleep, let them die in peace
At least that's what the captain says

Lay me down with fragile hands, tell me that you'll hold me always
That you'll never leave me alone Lay me down with fragile hands tell me that you will Always hold me. That you will hold me always.
That you will hold me alone.
I'm still lonely. Tell me what makes your heart beat?
Tell me why I'm still lonely Tell me why I'm alone.

Shoot to kill! Don't let them take us down,
We shot through their chests but their will was carried out
Return the attack! As my saber was returning the dead
The screams of my soldiers would boil my rage out,
This ends now
You can't stand on a ghost ship, you'll just fall through

Chorus

Not another, no not another word from you I don't wanna hear your lies now You've torn my will to love apart with your destructive tongue
Not another, no not another lie from you I don't wanna hear your lies now
Just turn around and leave me here
Leave me here alone
