Meet me at midnight-
At the broadcast tower
High above the Hollywood sign
You bring your guitar and
I'll bring my radio, radio

Everyone will come
From miles around
To witness this beautiful sight
We'll set bonfires
Pretend it's the Fourth of July

This is the starting of a brand new revolution
Bite the hand that feeds
Stand up and fight against the messages that they're sending
Stop their frequency

You're always talkin'
It's never ending
It's about time that we turned off the radio
Call the request lines and tell them that it's over

You're always playin'
All of the same songs
Over and over again
It's about time that we all turned off the radio

We'll listen to b-sides
And sing along to anthems of the years gone by Integrity and honesty will prevail tonight

When it's all over
One question still remains
Why do so many bands never make it to the radio

This is the starting of a brand new revolution
Stand up and fight against the messages that they're
sending
Stop their frequency

You're always talkin'
It's never ending
It's about time that we turned off the radio
Call the request lines and tell them that it's over

You're always playin'
All of the same songs
Over and over again
It's about time that we all turned off the radio

Look outside your FM dial
They're preaching lies
In 4/4 time
A generation without a voice
And stripped of pride

You're always talkin'
It's never ending
It's about time that we turned off the radio
Call the request lines and tell them that it's over

You're always playin'
All of the same songs
Over and over again
It's about time that we all turned off the radio

You're always talkin' (you're always talkin')
It's about time that we turned off the radio

You're always playin'
All of the same songs
It's about time that we all turned off the radio
