"We All Become Smoke"

We all are so faithful.
We all are so lost within our hearts.
There's a spark in reply,
And then our colors burst in gold,
And we all become like...

Fading into nothing, fading into nothing.
Just a trace of my life,
That burns within our thoughts.

And still we all are so hopeful.
So you write our sins in our blood.
We look so tired in our eyes,
Yet so afraid of,

Fading into nothing, fading into nothing.
Just a trace of my life,
That burns within our thoughts.

We all are so, we all are so faithful.

Fading into nothing, fading into nothing.
Just a trace of my life,
That burns within our hearts.

Fading into nothing, fading into nothing.
Just a trace of my heart,
Leaves its mark upon our hearts.
