This is what I get for waiting
For wanting more
When will you get this right?
When I am used to this You're screaming my name while my back is against the wall
And in this moment we both I know
The things that you hide
I know all of the things that you've said
You're not here inside
You're not here with me
I just want to breathe again
My God keep them grounded
My God Keep me grounded tonight
Such a simple way to create
A place for them to lay back down
Such a simple way to create
A place that was calling for you tonight

This is the time for you to feel alive
And I was the voice searching for you tonight
This is the time for you to feel...

Alive!
To feel alive

And I was the voice...

Searching for you tonight

No lies I swear I've been here for days
With no conversations to choke the things that we never could say
And that's the problem...

Tonight!
You're not here inside
You're not here with me
I just want to breathe again
You're not here inside
You're not here with me
You're not here inside

You're not here inside
