[feat. Sean Ryan]

Love plays a part, this state of mind, frayed out in Strands holding taught, caught in frozen time
A promise, slowly fades as time lingers on Kaleidoscopes, a looking glass, hid deep within Our secret place, set far away, with nothing Left but a voice, as if calling to say...
Hold on, breathe out with me now, my love, sing this aloud
While you're alive
Don't let go, make so you never lose all you desire
Set free your mind
I feel more alive now than I've ever been Lost in the cold tide of you
Time holds a fine white line from where our dreams
begin
And now all I need is you
Caressing each other, falling forever
And now all I need is you
Hold on, breathe out with me now, my love, sing this
aloud
While you're alive
Don't let go, make so you never lose all you desire
Set free your mind
Hold on...
I feel more alive now than I've ever been
Lost in the cold tide of you
Time holds a fine white line from where our dreams
And now all I need is you
Caressing each other, falling forever
And now all I need is you
Caressing each other
