Let's quit on this - 'cause I need space now
That's what you said to me - that's what you did to me
Where did this start and where does it end now
What do you came for
I've never been so sure

And I whisper while you speak
And I scream while you sleep
But I always will be where you are
And when silence turns into hate
It's time to communicate
And I always will be where you are

Here's what it takes to take a stand now
You'd better speak your mind
You'd better ease your mind
Where did we start and where do we go now
Was it your plan to leave everything up to me?

And I whisper while you speak
And I scream while you sleep
But I always will be where you are
And when silence turns into hate
It's time to communicate
And I always wã~ll be where you are

And I whisper while you speak
And I scream while you sleep
But I always will be where you are
And when silence turns into hate
It's time to communicate
