she takes the train on monday she's thinkin' maybe one day leaving town without a good-bye she wants to be so much and she tries so hard to touch the life that keeps on passing her by she would work from 9 to 5 tryin' to keep herself alive not remembering to see all the things she could be

and she's always saying

maybe yes and
maybe no
maybe I'm just a fool
with nowhere to go
maybe this time
I'll cut the deal
maybe I will make it
if I did it for real
I did it for real

he walks into the room and he smells the sweet perfume the girl that he's been wanting to call he wants to talk to her so very badly but he thinks that she don't know it at all he was dreaming 9 to 5

trying to keep his hopes alive believing that one day she'd see all the things he could be

and he's always saying

maybe no

maybe I'm just a fool
with nowhere to go
maybe this time
I'll cut the deal
maybe I will make it
if I did it for real
I did it for real

maybe my inhibitions keep me at bay and all I need to do is set them free
maybe my heart is takin' over my head and what is meant to be will just never be never be

yeah

maybe no

maybe no
