I'm dreaming about you
I'm thinking about your smile
When you were mine

I still can remember Those moments so tender when We had just each other

Looking back I 'll cherish forever Everything that we shared together Please don't let it go

Why can't we touch the sky the way we use do you and I why can't we learn to find answers to what we feel inside take my hand
don't look back, dont look back just try to understand tomorrow another sun will shine and a new day will bring love more time the picture is fading so long I have been waiting now for you to call

I know it's not easy but do you believe one day time will heal our sorrow even when the wind is blowing stronger and it seems no one cares any longer I won't let you fall
the way we used to you and I
and a new day will bring love one more time all that I have and all that I do it's nothing against the love I get from you you make me feel hole when im so far away so promise you 'll stay in my arms and tonight we'll touch the sky
