Making out each night of the week
Sure proves it's never enough
Now I know what I need,
'Cause we all got a thing 'bout love

She runs through a meadow of flowers
Escaping the hours
And throws aside the working day
She makes me smile when I'm worried
When life is so hurried
She sends my cares away

Something in her smile lights the morning
I know it sounds boring,
She melts me with her special glance
Simply overwhelmed by the feeling,
The girl's so appealing,
She only breathes romance.

Making out each night of the week
Sure proves it's never enough
Now I know what I need,
'Cause we all got a thing 'bout love

Yeah, loving's a total addiction,
The truth, not a fiction,
That makes the world a better place
Loving lifts me up with elation
There's no imitation
I see it in her face

She runs through a meadow of flowers
She fills all my lonely hours
She doesn't care at all if it rains
She makes me smile again and again
