Time is just a window
Someone forgot to close
We can fly in and out of those
All the time

We have found a world of wonder
Full of love and full of thunder
Full as the moon up in the sky
We don't need moons to light our way
When love is shining
We don't need a better tomorrow
Love needs no time to borrow

Time is just a window
Someone forgot to close
We can fly in and out of those
All the time

Things may come and go in seasons
Life will always have its reasons
But when love is born it never dies
We don't need the hours in the day
To take our journey
Just as long as we're together
We will always fly forever

Time is just a window
Someone forgot to close
We can fly in and out of those
All the time

Time
