

A*Teens

"Don't Even Know Your Name"

Visit "Don't Even Know Your Name" on MotoLyrics.com

See you everyday on the morning bus
You seem a little sad and lonely
I try to look away but when you pass my seat
I always hope that you will see me

Wish I could let you know how I feel before you have to go.

I want to hold you, make it come true
give all my loving but I don't even know you.
I'll be your sunshine in pouring rain
and say I love you but I don't even know your name.

I can't help myself I'm going slightly mad
I slip a note into your pocket
And I'll wait all night for the phone to ring
I wonder if you got the message

We might not be meant to be but I hope time will tell differently

I want to hold you, make it come true
give all my loving but I don't even know you.
I'll be your sunshine in pouring rain
and say I love you but I don't even know your name.

Now we are perfect strangers
No one's standing next to you Will I have the strength to pull it through

I want to hold you, make it come true
give all my loving but I don't even know you.
I'll be your sunshine in pouring rain
and say I love you but I don't even know your name.

I want to hold you, make it come true
give all my loving but I don't even know you.
I'll be your sunshine in pouring rain
and say I love you but I don't even know your name.

