Defendanted for the birth you sit whitout a word
Forgotten a long time a go to the field of bittery

Only one time you get words to say
Once it is granted
Forest screams, seas swell
You don't ask, and don't answer

Casque stumpy I offer
Rusty ploughs to plow
Stone hitted scythe to mow
So power of anger is shared

Do you know that the God would take, share some justice? Faults exposed to you, can you learn anything from them?

Who promiced to you the World?
Who that what you wanted to?
Who promiced everything to you?
Who promiced that, which you wished to be true?

Casque stumpy I offer
Rusty ploughs to plow
Stone hitted scythe to mow
So power of anger is shared
