Living within
These big mental walls
You can't realize
What you're looking for
You'll never know
What's happening to you
They catch you too
Like a kernel in a nut
It's time to wake up
Even if you are
Aware of what you're heading for
Life starts today

You're not convinced
All you see is right
When I tell you
Where's the real truth
So young and closed

Without consciousness
But very proud of your ignorance

It's time to wake up
Even if you are
Aware of what you must erase
And what you're heading for
Life starts today
Life starts today
You can't come back
It's time to wake up
Even if you are
Aware of what you must erase
And what you're heading for
Life starts today
