Referring to an old book one thousand words - one lie lost in self-adulation your self-regarded mind Narrow minded visions spread like poison through the world posing as the awaited savour the last supper prepared Blood-stained prophecy
A lifeless son is your idol your act of grace is death centuries of forced conversion word of god declined Your tongues speak about mercy but your prophecy is pain narcissism and divine benediction won't save you from ordeal
Blood-stained prophecy
