Taking over control of my life for the first time Get it right, go ahead, show me the reason I came They're talking shit thinking they could break something so strong Get it right, go ahead, I've got every reason to stay
The more haters the harder we're gonna dance (fight back)
The more eyes staring stupidly the more we're gonna ask for (ha ha)
We've just started turning you into a slave kind of fan Take back, I'll take back what's mine, take back, take it back (hey)

Everybody let's go tonight
It's just a little bit of uh-oh tonight
See the rabble is rising up I'm giving you now just what you want Giving you green light, green light, green light, green
light
Green light, green light, green light, green light

Everybody scream what's on your mind
Like, "A good-night-fuck's so hard to find"
See I couldn't care less when they moan and run
When their conscience drops I've just begun Giving you green light, green light, green light, green
Green light, green light, green light, green light

Green light...

You've gone a little too far, my ass can do the same now
I turn it up, no one hears you poor soul calling us names
Got me in a crazy mood, never felt something so real
I turn it up, everyone watch us breaking your chains I've learned how use the beat as self-defense (fight back)~It's rolling over you, my fingers do the V sign (ha ha)
I won't stop making you blush for my amusement
This time I'll take back what's mine, take back, take it back (hey)

CHORUS

We're steppin' across the border now We're showing them the red card now Guess who's won the game and who'll earn the fame
Guess who'll never again forget our name Never again forget my name (hey)

CHORUS

Giving you green light, green light, green light, green
Green light, green light, green light, green light
