Chorus:

My mind's open for arguments
My mind's open for different things
So don't damn me for changing my point-of-view now and then
My mind, my soul and my spirit in one place
Don't blame me for saying words that I could then regret

I've got the feeling that you hate me
I can't help giving it back
It sounds weird and that's just what it is Why should we take it easy? ... Never mind

I am now, I'm here
I'm no fool, I'm just a boy
There's nothing else for you to fear
Hey, ever thought of thinking the same?
No...

Repeat chorus

Don't blame me for saying words that I could then

I'm trying hard to understand you
And all you do is giving a damn

Why not start an atomic war now?
I'm bored and it could be quite a laugh, couldn't it?

Some nations dropping bombs
Others killing neighbour's child
Another man's wife is lying in the grass
There is love running down
Along the blood they have lost

Repeat chorus

My mind is open for you now
You'd better take the chance before it's too late
My mind is open for you now
You'd better take the chance before it's too late

Repeat chorus 2x

My mind is open for you now
You'd better take the chance before it's too late
It's in the way you look at me
Don't hesitate, I'm not that bad
