You come along in the middle of the night
Expecting them to feed you and hold you tight
And they do it
Your hair smells good and your face isn't that bad
But you do what they want, and they want it in bed
They think it's all good, 'cause they don't know yet

But you don't really wanna want 'em
'Cause you never knew what you want
And telling you this is not the hardest thing in the world

Chorus:

You want somebody to love you
Someone who stills your hunger for a while
You need something that you're not ready to give
So tell me why should I do that to myself?
True love has never been an option for you
You come and take, before you run away
You think that you can have everything that you want

But that's wrong, 'cause you still can't have me

When you were young you had some funny dreams
Of having many friends, but you never played in teams
And you still don't
You like to play alone, that's the only way to cheat
And those fools run after you, they are blinded by the heat
I can feel it, I'm not blinded

The day will come when they all know
That everything they saw was a show
Then it's time too say goodbye, and you'll be kicked out into the snow

You need somebody, you need someone to love
You need somebody, you need someone to love
You need somebody, you need someone to love
You need somebody, you need someone to love

Repeat chorus
