

Al Axy "Whisper The Screams"

Visit "Whisper The Screams" on MotoLyrics.com

You whisper the screams of your soul
So that nobody hears them
The darkness surrounds you
You're caught and you can't move
You're on your own in this lonely world
Where no one dares to speak

There's water around you
So deep and you can't swim
An ocean full of your tears
You can't hold them back
The bitter taste is the only thing
That is real

You hide from the demons inside
But you know they will find you

Their faces are blurred
And they say that they are your friends
Don't give them your hand, they're holding a knife
Don't let them steal your thoughts

You whisper the screams of your soul
So that nobody hears them
One day you will find the way out
Please be patient (patient)
Please don't give up, please be strong
Please, please don't die

Please don't die
