Baby, you know it's shady
The way you're treating me now that I am your lady
Ooh baby,
When we were talkin'
I thought you'd never be this way
And that you'd never do me wrong

You used to always write me letters (Always)
Saying how much you loved me (Always)
You would give me such sweet kisses
You were always there for me (There for me)
And now you never do those things
And boy we argue endlessly
And I'm tired of the way you're treating me

Like a chameleon (Chameleon)
You keep on changing (You keep on changing)
What happened to the way you were when we first started
(When we first started)
Like a chameleon (Chameleon)
You're like no other
Now that you have me you have shown all your true
colors
(All your true colors)
Like a Chameleon (Like a chameleon)
You just don't stay the same (Just won't stay the same)
No more red roses (Red roses)
No more how was your day (How was your day)
No more sweet messages
No more just havin' fun (No more havin' fun)
Why you keep changing
Like a chameleon

Lately, you've been so busy
It seems when you get in you now forget to call me
And lately, when we are talkin
The conversation stops so short like you don't have too much to say

You used to always write me letters (Always)

Saying how much you loved me (Always)
You used to give me such sweet kisses (Always)
You were always there for me (There for me)
Now you never do those things
And boy we argue endlessly
I'm tired of the way your treating me (treating me)

Like a chameleon (Oh baby)
You keep on changing (You keep on changin')
What happened to the way you were when we first
started
(What happened to the way)
Like a chameleon
You're like no other (You're like no other)
Now that you have me you have shown all your true
Like a chameleon
You just won't stay the same (You just won't stay the same)
No more red roses
No more how was your day
No more sweet messages
No more just havin' fun (No no no)
Why you keep changing
Like a chameleon

I used to love you baby
But now you drive me crazy
This constant changing
Just ain't working out at all
Things were so simple
Now it they seem so hard
And Baby I want you to Stop

Like a chameleon
You keep on changing
What happened to the way you were when we first
started
(The way we first started)
Like a chameleon
You're like no other
Now that you have me you have shown all your true
colors
(All your true colors)
Like a Chameleon
You just won't stay the same
No more red roses (No red roses)
No more how was your day
(No sweet messages) No more sweet messages
No more just having fun

Why you keep changing
Like a chameleon

Like a chameleon
You keep on changing
What happened to the way you were when we first
started
Like a chameleon
You're like no other
Now that you have me you have shown all your true
Like a chameleon
You just won't stay the same
No more red roses
No more how was your day
