Another day begins

I can't believe that you slipped away

I'm sure this can't be really happening

It seemed like time just stopped when my head dropped

Just come back for one day

'Cause there's so much I never got to say

Just come back for one day so I can remember your face

We've run out of time

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

And there's no return

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

We've run out again

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

And you've lost a friend

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

And maybe one day I'll see you again

But until then I'll see you in the morning

Out of time

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

And there's no return

(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)
Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

We've run out again
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)
And you've lost a friend
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)
Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

We've run out of time
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)
And there's no return
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)
Lay your head
(Lay your head down 'til morning comes)

We've run out again and you've lost a friend
Lay your head
Lay your head
