I just got your message saying there's no one to trust
And if there is nobody then I might as well give up
But I don't wanna go there 'cause I dived right in 10
years ago
And ever since then I've been swimming after
something I don't know

Part of me feels that I could run for miles
And part of me feels that it's too hard to try I'm not so sure if there's a way over
Just out of reach but not impossible

I just got your message saying there's no one to trust
And if there is nobody then I might as well give up
But I don't wanna go there 'cause I dived right in 10
years ago
And ever since then I've been swimming after
something I don't know

I just got your message saying there's no one to trust
And if there is nobody then I might as well give up
But I don't wanna go there 'cause I dived right in 10
years ago
And ever since then I've been swimming after
something I don't know

(I just got your message saying)
(I just got your message saying)
(And if there is nobody then I might as well give up)

(I just got your message saying)

(Swimming after something)
(Swimming after something)
