Thank you for today
All our past seems miles away
Staring across the shoreline
I will stop and save it in
Every little thought
And the sky hangs heavy with rain
But it doesn't seem to bother you

Everything's okay

Staring across the shoreline
I will stop and save it in
Every little thought

And don't say I'm keeping us away
Been waiting around like soldiers

They will gut us to death

Staring across the shoreline
I will stop and save it in
Every little thought we had
Try not to forget a single moment when it's gone

Thank you for... (today)
I will stop and save it in
Every little thought

Thank you for... (today)
I will stop and save it in
Every little thought

Thank you for today
