Hello Mother Hello Father
I am back at Camp Granada and I'm writting you this letter just to say my compound fracture's getting better no one here knows where my truck is and my bunk is where the scunk is and this years a suits improving cause the little black things in it are not moving the camp nurse is quite a swimmer she says swimming makes you slimmer her names miss hela greeny have you ever seen a whale in a bikini all our bathrooms have such thin doors gee i wish they'd move them indoors where all tired of mother goose here so next friday night there having lenny bruce here let me stay oh mother father let me stay I love granada every night the camp fires really keen oh ma please send some ungutine let me stay up here in mother natures land and tip toe through the tulips grand to leave would be a shame besides I'd miss the poker game please don't worry father mother I'll take care of little brother he plays ball here and he rows here and I hope they teach him how to blow his nose here he wakes up at half past 6 hand gose directly to the quick sand he was lonely now he's better he's like all of us except his bed is wetter
