That old sun comes up every morning
And goes back down at the end of every day
It's just that way

Stars show up every evening
The man in the moon comes out to play
It's just that way

And girl, loving you
Is something I was born to do
It's just that way

The ocean's wet, the desert's dry
Don't ask me why cos I can't say
It's just that way
And sure as the world keeps turning
My love for you will never change
Oh, it's just that way

And girl, loving you
Is something I was born to do
It's just that way

And girl, loving you
Is something I was born to do
It's just that way

That old sun comes up every morning
It's just that way
