Standing around for an hour in the rain
The porcelain promise is break once again
Fill me with everything I wanna hear
These are the same lines that I heard last year
And you always seem to talk and walk away
Sayin' things will start to happen any day

And I'll see you when?
So tell me when
And I'll see you when?
So tell me when

I've heard so much about boats comin' in
Well, I see no ships so I guess I should swim
How did I come to get caught in your wake?
The more that I give you the more you still take

And you always seem to talk and walk away
Sayin' things will start to happen any day

And I'll see you when?
So tell me when
I'll see you say when?
So tell me when
When

Monday is Tuesday then March becomes May
The days of my life are just tickin' away

So I'll see you when?
I need you to tell me when, yeah
I'll see you when?
So tell me when, yeah

I'll see you when?
So tell me when
When
