Sunshine and rain
Everything seems the same
Who take the blame
That's the name of the game

I don't know why I talk to you
I'm wasting my words and time
I spent the best part of last night
Tryin' to make this right

Sunshine and rain
Everything seems the same
Who take the blame
That's the name of the game

If you have a problem
And you don't know what to do
Yeah, don't you know it, darling patience please
And you're gonna feel the same way too

Sunshine and rain
Everything seems the same
Oh, who take the blame
That's the name of the game

Sunshine and rain
Everything seems the same
Who take the blame
That's the name of the game

I heard a story yesterday
About a captive in distress
But she does fine, doesn't resist
And now she needs a wedding dress

Sunshine and rain
Everything seems the same
Who take the blame
That's the name of the game
