This, this is your... day Little Pat, the fuck was that?

I won't lie little homie, they opened up doors for me Still hoping there's a moral to that story I think about all the time dedicated to getting inebriated
We did it just for the sake of it
Your family physician is a dope man That new prescription got you open Came a long way from visions of spirits
Now we getting lifted off the cough syrups I saw up close how fucked up coke was So I was always too neurotic for the powder narcotics Huh, but I'm a pot head, functional alcoholic I don't binge though, I understand the logic I like hash but that shit's always hidden and I've never seen peyote here in my jurisdiction Never used a needle but I know bout the sweats cause I'm addicted to coffee, cigarettes, probably sex Ecstasy is too damn strong for me and the intensity lasts too long for me Plus I figure I don't need any buzz to make me any more needy than I already was Huh, and to be real I don't trust them pills Somebody's mobile home laboratory up in the hills
Or maybe bikers in a basement, dirty and nervous Tryna measure out the right amount of laundry detergent Hallucinogenics, who's tempted to bend your perception for a few seconds?
Actually it's like a half-day gave away
A deal that you made to do nothing but play and pray Please dear God, don't want to vomit again
I promise from now on I'll stick to marijuana plants Mushrooms and me will not be friends until the next time that Nate shows up with tops and stems
Gobble 'em, yum, no, tastes like shit
But you'll forget about that once they kick

And for me acid was the same trip until the part came where you wonder what it's made with Think about it, you're so high sitting there Thinking about thinking about it, so high sitting there Strict nine-six, vision impaired Found the meaning of existing on the floor in your kitchen, yeah
I ain't gonna tell you that you better not do it But master your high, try not to abuse it Stay away from me if your life's getting stupid and please stop pretending that it makes better music
