Places, I still remember places
Those precious times and places
When everything was new

Places, I still can feel those places
Our hearts were never lighter
The sky was twice as new

Places, what happen to those places?
Though they have changed forever
I'm still in love with you

Moments, do you remember moments?
And nothing seems to matter
Apart from me and you

Passion, wilder than the ocean
Timeless as the mountain
We grew closer
We grew wiser every day

Places, I still remember places
Those precious times and places
When everything was new

Places, do you remember places
And nothing seems to matter
I'm still in love with you
