look at my eyes
you are the first to see me cry look at my hands you know i just to lift them high look at my feet
be the first to see me fall
the first to see me fall

look at my knees
as i get down on the floor look at me bleed
now that my dignity is gone look at my back you are the first to see me fall

im i really what you want , a lie do you want to see me feel me find the man behind the lies do you really want to look inside do you want to know what is on the other side hold my hand you are the first to see me broke hear my breathe feels like i am about to choke feel my fair
