These are dark and desperate times
And I can't find a way to the light in the end
Human ambition is dead
We never try to do anything new
Success is only shown to few
Human ambition is dead
I'm looking for
I'm looking forward
I'm looking for
I'm looking for a way to find myself in this world
Our lives will show them the way for change
Our lives will show them the way for change
Is there none left in this world, in this life for me
I'm not too old to fight my way through and live
I'm looking for
I'm looking for a way
To find myself
To find myself in this world.
