Closed eyes try to hide from a fear that's become real
The people are around, you know you speak to them
No one can solve your problem but you or your maker
Where is your spine now, your stuck on the ground
We are walking towards the end of the world. Why do I feel fine?
Selfish Intentions create your own demise
Betray your word you sure can speak a mouthful
We have always tried hope but don't back it up by the way that we act
Our lives
Condemned
Because we enjoy ourselves
We think we are alone
You don't know the horror I see
Our people burned scorched from the earth
Mankind will be done by the end of this day
You have set this in motion
Your hand is drawn
It could have changed in the beginning
Now this is the end
