girl i miss you.. i feel you wanting me over the telephone and i'm still here alone and though it seems so close to a perfect day..
when everything just went my way, i've had the longest night i've ever known..

i wish that i was making love to you tonight.. (wish i was makin love)
i've never seen so many stars or a moon as bright.. and baby you're what's missing, could make it all just
right..

in the darkness i feel my empty bed covered with loneliness
we pay for our success in ways we never could have dreamed before..
babe, i need you more and more and nothing ever makes me want you less..

making..)
i've never seen so many stars and a moon as bright..
and baby you're what's missing, could make it all just
right..

wish that i was making love..

right..
and i wish that i was making love to you..

wish i was making love..
