[Intro]

Rest in Piece Michael Jackson
We aint gonna forget about you And The songs that youve put through well this songs for you about this world and how you made us get this even after we aint gonna forget about that Rest in Piece...and listen

[Verse 1]

hey yo

this is my own story about my missing past let it out before, before talk spreads fast done music for 3 years, ive made it this far I still got long to go though, I never gonna be a star ever since I started I thought this was my moment I release my own album, my music causes conflict
I aint stoping yet, only if this world makes me
If they try accomplish, let my music wont leave me ... na

[Chorus]

When you know this world has to change
When it does will you try make a change
Accomplish goals let yourself rearrange
Respecting one another, change a chapter in your page
If your down in your own chapter of your life
Rip out the page, move on to a better strike
Dont take it out on yourself, try keep your head up Staying low wont change anything, you will get more stuck

[Verse 2]

hey yo

Last year I got involved with a TV Station did the best I can to help, I broke their relation the best ever experience I ever had, it was my passion but they didnt like me cause I rapped, left the station broke and thought I was going somewhere, only devestation

aint gonna trust them again, we aint a combination the whole time I had this dream of having my own show now that dreams over, Ive gotten over it though

[Chorus]

When you know this world has to change
When it does will you try make a change
Accomplish goals let yourself rearrange
Respecting one another, change a chapter in your page
If your down in your own chapter of your life
Rip out the page, move on to a better strike
Dont take it out on yourself, try keep your head up Staying low wont change anything, you will get more stuck , yo

[Verse 3]

yo do you have a judgement, of rating this song yet?
If you do, I dont care everyview I forget I aint acting suspicious, I need help with my own verses sating I dont write my songs..causes you curses dont mean to lose friends with my music, I still got it Think rapping is cycotic, but I just cant leave it Im gonna stand tall, whatever coming my way the force will try and stop me, but you cant kill the soul in me

[Chorus]

When you know this world has to change
When it does will you try make a change
Accomplish goals let yourself rearrange
Respecting one another, change a chapter in your page
If your down in your own chapter of your life
Rip out the page, move on to a better strike
Staying low wont change anything, you will get more

[Verse 4]

Is it me or is this world breaking down rapidly understandably its causing people in the world, misery I cant even cope with everything thats actually going on im hearing about bombs until your own life is gone we hear stories everyday , most of them are now are negative cant we flip that shit, life to change the very best of it all we ever hope is what the future will bring understandable cope, this world will should find a team
