Monday Morning Madness

This city life has got me crazy as usual
Everyday is never changing on the streets below
Rushing around to the sound of the city
Rushing around to the sound of a busy world

It's just another day

I hear my heart, I feel it breaking
Every time you go, no time to stop
You're always leaving me in the cold.
Rushing around to the sound of the city
Rushing around to the sound of a busy world

It's just another day

(EXTRA VERSE)

The day begins, the fog is lifting, I feel alive
With every step a new beginning I see the light

You left me in the rain
Calling out your name
Pretending you don't matter but I'm yours to save.
You're too cool to care
People stop & stare
But you keep walking like it's just another day.
