(Alexa)

I wouldn't mind if we stayed like this forever
Remember the last time we were like this together
Wrapped up in blankets and lost in your kiss
I never thought it could end where it should have began
Together
After all of the mistakes and the choices we made
There's a love that we both can't deny

We've been miles away
Still it feels like yesterday
A feeling this strong's worth the wait
After all that's been said and done

Is it so crazy to still take the chance on tomorrow?
I'll take the reins and you pick the direction
Yeah I'll follow
Here in the dark with my head on your shoulder
Oh I miss you
I promise never to take you for granted
Like I used to
After all of this time
It's still your heart and mine
And no one can take that away

We've been miles away
Still it feels like yesterday
A feeling this strong's worth the wait
After all that's been said and done

(Josh)

Now we're back to that place
No more tryin' to say things
Put it all out on the table
'Cause I would do anything
If it keeps you here with me
From now on I'm willing and able

(Alexa and Josh)

Miles away

(Alexa)
We've been miles away
Still it feels like yesterday
A feeling this strong's worth the wait
After all that's been said and done

After all that's been said and done
After all that's been said and done
I'm still in love with you
