George Lyrics:

You always had the blondest hair.
Chlorine stripped the pigment from your skin.
The cash was worth the fucking change.
At the pool from open to close.
Rake the bottom for loose change.
A job that probably got him his luxurious house and cars
But it probably lead to his divorce.
Its probably the reason why his son hates him.
Now your blood is so toxic with chlorine
That you only have 3 months to live.
Was the change worth it?
Was the divorce worth it?
You will never see your son again.

Dallas Lyrics:

The image still hurts my eyes/
White chlorine burns so bright
Sometimes I fear the night
When addiction became surprise
Red...stained...eyes
Red...stained...eyes
RED...STAINED EYES
