

Alfie "Stuntman"

Visit "Stuntman" on MotoLyrics.com

When I find I'm growing older,
Obstacles that are getting in the way.
If I could click my fingers,
Wish them all away,
Wish them all away,
Wish them all away.
I should try to overcome these obstacles,
Give the world an amazing spectacle to see.
Prove my worth with something visual,
Show more than a modicum of me.
If you had a thought as big as your brain,
That thought's not the sort a brain can contain.
Ready, set, go. I'm a human kangaroo.

I'll jump for you.
Push myself to see what I can do,
Throw me into territories new.
You know that if you had thought as big as your brain,
That thought's not the sort a brain can contain.
People don't want any answers,
They want to work it out for themselves,
Ruin their health and that's not all.
You know I think that,
If you had a thought as big as your brain,
That thought's not the sort a brain can contain.

Visit Alfie page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.