For my whole life, I have been burning down bridges,
My only problem was foresight.
I was standing on them, I never looked down,
And now I am, knee deep in your bullshit.
If you're ready for battle I'm ready for war,
So we can dance if you want.(lies)
How easily we are deceived, how easily we believe.
(lies)

I will not run out of ammo, no more bowing my head,
If every day is another slug, I will pull them out of my chest.
I will not run out of ammo, no more bowing my head,
If every day is another slug, I will pull them out of my chest.

So raise your voices and hold your hopes up high,
Tell your stories run your mouth and tell your lies.

After all this time, don't wash my blood off of your hands,
Let it crack and stain you, so the outside can match the in.
Oh does it make you the fucking toast of the town,
To pull yourself up, on those you always putting down,

So raise your voices and hold your hopes up high,
Tell your stories run your mouth and tell your lies.
So raise your voices and hold your hopes up high,
Tell your stories run your mouth and tell your lies.

You curse my name burn down my house,
As I bear my soul you cast your doubt, and I can live without.

Your passing judgement, with side long glances,
Am I spitting hairs or do I dare to say, you've had your chances.
Your passing judgement, with side long glances,
Am I spitting hairs or do I dare to say, you've had your chances.

So raise your voices and hold your hopes up high,
Tell your stories run your mouth and tell your lies.
So raise your voices and hold your hopes up high,
Tell your stories run your mouth and tell your lies.

Curse my name.
Curse my name.
Curse my name.
Curse my name.
Fuck! *Spits*
