the epitomy of a woman submissive to her man classy and good-looking thats the type of girl that i had at home the type of girl i just kept doing wrong yeah
there was no limit to the things she would do for me all i had to do was ask and i will recieve my mama said you got a good thing and hold on i guess i had a good thing but i just didnt know sorry aint gone cut it no more all my cars aint gone do it no more a now its the big time i know she aint coming back but girl give me another chance she tried to make it work i put her through things that she didnt deserve and now its the big time i know she aint coming back so girl give me another chance she forgave me and let me back in like the average man i did it again not thinking bout the consequences now im sitting here trying to figure out how to bring her back cause i cant when she left she took a part of me without her i feel incomplete
sorry aint gone cut it no more all my cars aint gone do it no more now its the bad time i know she aint coming back but girl give me another chance
she tried to make it work i put her through things that she didnt deserve now its the big time i know she aint coming back but girl give me another chance i realized i delayed the the love that i had in mind now that your gone im considering doing right i said sorry aint gone do it no more all my cars aint gone do it no more now its the big time i know she aint coming back but girl give me another chance she tried to make it work i put her through things that i didnt deserve now its the big time i know she aint coming back so girl give me another chance
