The walrus and the carpenter
Were walking cross the land
The beach was wide from side to side
But much too full of sand
"Mr Walrus," said the carpenter,
"My brain begins to perk
We'll sweep this clear and in a year
If you don't mind the work."

"The time has come," the walrus said,
"To talk of other things
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
Of cabbages and kings
And while the sea is boiling hot
And whether pigs have wings
Karoo Karay no work today
We're cabbages and kings"

Oysters, come and walk with us
The day is warm and bright
A pleasant walk
A pleasant talk
Would be a sheer delight
(Yes and perhaps if we get hungry on the way
We could stop and ah, have a bite!!)
But mother oyster winked her eye
And shook her weary head
She knew too well it was much too soon
To leave her oyster bed
"The sea is nice
Take my advice
And stay right here" mom said

The time has come my little friends
To talk of other things
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
Of cabbages and kings
And while the sea is boiling hot
And whether pigs have wings
Karoo Karay come run away
With the cabbages and kings

Now ah, let me see
Ah!! A loaf of bread is what we cheerly need
(And how about some pepper, salt and vinagar?)
Ah yes yes of course of course
Now oysters dear, if you are ready
We shall begin the feed
(FEED!!)
Oh yes ah, the time has come my little friends
To talk of food and things
(Of pepper corns and mustard seeds
And other seasonings
We'll mix 'em all together
In a sauce that's made for kings
Kaloo Kalay we'll eat today
Like cabbages and kings!!)

I, I wait for you I, oh excuse me
I deeply simplisize
For I've enjoyed you company
Oh much more than you realize
"Little oysters, little oysters??"
But answer there came none
And this was scarcely all because
They'ed been eaten
Every-one

THE TIME HAS COME!!!!

Were cabbages
And kings!!!!
The End
