here i go
restless heart
another loneliness adventure in the dark all my friends who knew me well tell me not to walk down that road again what they dont know, what they cant see its being on that road that makes me free some say i'm running, but i know i'm fallin
back to you

the waters deep
under the bridge
as i pass by our old house up on the ridge all our sins have washed away now all thats left are all the things we didn't say oh restless heart, you beat so fast while my mind is telling me that it wont last

some say i'm runnin
but i know i'm fallin

against the odds
i'll roll the dice
i guess my heart has won despite all good advice so grab your things and come on in and get to know your children once again oh when does a fool stop being a fool and since when does love oblige to any rule
some say i'm runnin

lets learn to give
lets talk things out lets give them someone else to talk about
some say i'm runnin
