Everyday when I get home, I can see what I did wrong
And the back of my mind say, that I should know better
And I would give it all up, if I could turn back the clock
Would've treated you better, now I see it clearer

I do believe there's a time to change
And I'm not caught up in yesterday

'Cause the world will keep on turning
And the light will keep on burning
For the fact that I'll be learning
Every minute of the journey
But if we don't stop pretendin'
There will be consequences
For the rivers that are flowing
When the fire's on the fire's on

It's my world, it's my world, it's my world
It's my world, it's my world, it's my world
It's my world too

Somebody made it all up, the beauty of a raindrop
Just like a word of art, mountains and rivers
I wanna see where it ends up, if I give it all my love
Every thought I give her will come back forever

I know that we've got a right to change
And there's no reason to place the blame

'Cause the world will keep on turning
And the light will keep on burning
For the fact that I'll be learning
Every minute of the journey
But if we don't stop pretendin'
There will be consequences
For the rivers that are flowing
When the fire's on the fire's on

I've got a choice to make, before it fades away
It's now or never, can't be like "hey, whatever"
Whatever motivates, I've gotta make a change

Make a change, make a change
We're in this together

'Cause the world will keep on turning
And the light will keep on burning
For the fact that I'll be learning
Every minute of the journey
But if we don't stop pretendin'
There will be consequences
For the rivers that are flowing
When the fire's on the fire's on
