Avalanche in your heart
Love is buried under
No way out, for the fools that all follow
Make me laugh, make me cry
Just can't get close enough
Climb your walls, hope I'll fall into your arms
Don't believe a word you tell me
But then your voice compels
You'll always be right here with me
And your life's like a movie
You can be no one else
As you live just to thrill me
Now believe in yourself
Never get tired of watching you
Someday you will break through
As I wait in the real world
Watch you rise, Watch your fall
Spend each moment like my own
All those eyes, captivated by you
An audience with the sun
As your feelings over run
You inspire these forces in me
And your life's like a movie
You can be no one else
As you live just to thrill me
Now believe in yourself
Never get tired of watching you
Someday you will break through
As I wait in the real world
Don't believe a word you tell me
But then your voice compels
You'll always be right here with me
Real world
And the real world
And your life still feels like a movie
You can be no one else
As you live just to thrill me
Now believe in yourself
Never get tired of watching you
One day you will break through
As I wait in the real world
As I wait in the real world
