Trust me, she's got an anxious disease
It's keeping her from sleep
It's nothing to do with me
Just a pill that she'll always need

She knows not what she's doing
Just that she can't start

All good things in time
Honey, I never realized
Everything was better on it's way
I love you, but I never stayed

In the bedroom
She takes down all of her clothes
Lies to the floor 'cause she knows
Every thing's falling and she doesn't want to stand alone

She knows not what she's doing
Just that she can't start

All good things in time
Honey, I never realized
Everything was better on it's way
I love you, but I never stayed

Even if the world stands still
You will always always always feel me

All good things in time
Honey, I never realized
Everything was better on it's way
I love you, but I'll never stay

All good things in time
Honey, I never realized
Everything was better on it's way
I love you, but I'll never stay

All good things in time
Honey, I never realized

Everything was better on it's way
I love you, but I'll never stay
