God gave me a gun
Said take everyone
Standing in the way
Of what you really want
So I took his advice
Yeah, I never thought twice
Headed out to find
To find a victim

And if I never run
Out of ammunition
I'll just keep shooting
'Cause I'm the only one
That likes to see myself hurting

God played me a song
Said sing along
How fragile is the sound
When no one is around
You keep so damn confused
By love you always lose
But child it's what you choose
Lost and lying on the ground

So I rose up and danced
Like an angel with a broken body
Eyes turning to glass
To run the rain across my face

Streets held out their hands
To lead me back to my sweet manger
And tuck me into my flesh
Where I woke up to an answered prayer
