Open your eyes and see your downfall
You've tried and tried but your faithfulness isn't real
With a mind that's plagued inside
By the common misconceptions you idolize
Hang your head in shame
You manipulate everyone

I put the whole world in front of you
Would it be too much to ask for
Would it be too much to say
Everything you had dreamed of Well it won't come back to you
No, no it won't come back
No, no it won't come back to you

Do you feel, do you feel like you're running away?
Did you ever have any intention
To say you never meant it
To save yourself from ending
I'll stand by the ocean and watch your body washing
away

Do you feel, do you feel like you're running away?
Did you ever have any intention
To say you never meant it
To save yourself from ending
Here's a toast to devotion, as your body washes away

While you float face down
With a twist to your crescent lips
Your intentions were so elegant
Lie, after lie, after lie
Glorified by the ones you despise

You could have given more than what you left for me
I too was blind before I opened up my eyes to see
You should have given more, more than you left for me
Your vices won't weigh me down tonight
If you could have untied that weight from your leg
I could have saved you
I could have saved you

But the one thing I learned from all of this
Is to admit when your time is finally up

Do you feel, do you feel like you're running away?
Did you ever have any intention
To say you never meant it
To save yourself from ending
I'll stand by the ocean and watch your body washing

Do you feel, do you feel like you're running away?
Did you ever have any intention
To say you never meant it
To save yourself from ending
Here's a toast to devotion, as your body washes away

Raise your glass face down
Take a bow, all our eyes are off you now
Our eyes are off you now
