it's a new day
it's a bright day even when you stand in the dark it's just that you've been broken 50 pieces

today is gone
yet i'm the only light that you see you need someone
i know all you needed was me

everyday we wait
if it takes too long
just tell me something new
forget about the sunshine when it's gone another pale moon shines like high noon when i never felt so cold alone it's just that you're uneasy when you need me

forget about the sunshine when it's gone you can say it's right but it feels so wrong show me something true

forget about the sunshine

i'm the only light that you see
and i know all you needed was me

you can think it's right when it feels so wrong

you can think it's right but it feels so wrong
