She screams when I'm away
She's been gone before.
I worried all the time
Why worry anymore?
Now I go, away
Now I know, today

I, I picked out your star
I turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe

She, now, she's all alone
Her eyes, they drown in tears
Their love was meant to last
But she is blind with fear
Now I go, away
Now I know, today

I, I picked out your star
I turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe

Leave me be
Now, I'm free
Love reflecting everything
You want space
I need you to help me see this through

There she goes [x3]

I, I picked out your star
I turned night to day

A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe

I, I picked out your star
I turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
You're everything to me
